ARTISTS-IN-RESIDENCE

Annie L'Esperance is a seamstress and hiker from Lexington, KY, who loves color and pattern. Annie is pleased to share her sewing skills and love of making creative and useful bags with other Montreaters.

Genny Hagler is a resident of Asheville, NC, by way of New Orleans. She has her BA in painting from Davidson College and holds her MAEd from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

Jerome H. Keeler retired from the USAF in 1995 and left that world of high-tension explosive ordnance disposal for quiet parks and an occasional rainstorm! He no longer hunts for bombs and bullets, but now chases warblers, stalks waterfowl, and prowls for bugs to photograph. His only danger now is that his walls are overloaded with photos of his captures.

John Stoudenmire is a potter, cook, and musician. He teaches applied voice at the Berkeley Center for the Arts at Goose Creek High School preparing students for college/university study scholarships. John studied clay with Carol Sutherland, potter with the Southern Highland Craftsman Guild, and Cynthia Bringle. He is a working member of the Charleston Crafts, a cooperative in Charleston, SC.

Meredith Greene has been wet felting/nuno felting for about four years and sells the scarves she makes at a local women's boutique in Black Mountain.

Nat Scott, BFA in pottery and painting, came to St. Simons Presbyterian Church in 2005. As director of congregational life, Nat seeks to foster ministries of care, fellowship, and fun across all ages of the church. He has a particular focus in leading the "try something new" ministry for older adults. In addition to being a professional potter by training, Nat enjoys being out in God's creation biking, kayaking, sailing, hiking, and attending music festivals.

Kay Clegg, Lisa Galloway, and Carol Wilhelmi, our "Glassy Girls," are our resident fused glass team, from Florida, South Carolina, and Black Mountain.
